

U.S. Army Joint Munitions Command

BRIAN D. LOTT CIVILIAN DEPUTY MCALESTER ARMY AMMUNITION PLANT

Brian D. Lott assumed his position as Civilian Deputy for the McAlester Army Ammunition Plant (MCAAP) Feb. 17, 2019. In this capacity, he is responsible for managing the plant's mission programs, the safety, security, quality and reliability of the munitions stockpile, maintenance of the infrastructure, and formulating long-range strategic plans and policies to efficiently and effectively accomplish the plant's mission.

Before assuming the position of Civilian Deputy, Mr. Lott served as the plant's Chief of Staff, which included responsibilities for Risk Management (Safety, Security, Fire and Emergency Services), Logistics, Information Management, Quality Assurance, Community and Family Activities, Environmental Management, Equal Employment Opportunity, Internal Review and Audit Compliance, Public Affairs and the Commander's Initiative Group.

He began his civil service career in 1991 as a student employee in the Resource Management Directorate at McAlester Army Ammunition Plant. During his career, he has held a number of positions including Explosives Worker, Program/Management Analyst, Marketing Specialist, Chief of the Industrial Operations Division and Director of Ammunition Operations.

Mr. Lott earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Business and Elementary Education from Southeastern Oklahoma State University in May 1996 and a Master's Degree in Business Administration from Cameron University in 2001. He is a graduate of the Depot and Arsenal Executive Leadership Program administered by the Institute for Defense and Business and taught in partnership with the University of North Carolina Kenan-Flagler Business School and a member of Leadership Oklahoma Class 31.

Mr. Lott serves on the Board of Regents for Eastern Oklahoma State College and is President of the Frink-Chambers Public Schools Board of Education.

